New voice at BBC Hereford and Worcester

Michael Collie has recently joined BBC Hereford & Worcester as the presenter of the Sunday breakfast show 7-9am. Michael says -"It's the best day of the week, and in the best part of the country as well. And we all want to get up refreshed and ready to have a great day. So let's make that happen. On a Sunday, a lot of people think of issues facing our Churches and our society in these counties - so we'll do that too, and give people a real chance to discuss the views on how we live today. And we'll deal with broader issues that effect everyone - as well as having some fun, and making sure we're well set up for a great Sunday."

If possible can you bring them next Sunday morning if you haven't done so already; this will help the team to see what else is needed. Any queries please see Julie, Amanda or Simon.

Pastors Piece

Some of you might just remember Andrew Watson, who was the parish curate in Ipsley some years ago, and who is now the Bishop of Aston. All of us involved in stipendiary ministry in the diocese were invited to a Bishop's Teaching Day at the Old Palace last week, and Bishop Andrew was the speaker. He reminded us about being confident in the calling that God places on each one of us, whoever we are, and in our teaching this morning here at St John's, we remind ourselves that we can approach the throne of grace with confidence, too. If the word of God is living and active in our lives, how could it be different? If he knows every little thing about us, and still loves us and wants the best for us, then we have no need to hide or be fearful, if indeed we come in faith, trust and repentance. None of us were ever designed to live life without him, and whatever despair or doubt or apathy we may feel, Jesus is longing to lift us to the throne of grace!

Every blessing,
Gary
